Press Information Officer at the EU Delegation to Kazakhstan (LA) speaks English, Russian and Kazakh

I am committed to the EEAS's priorities in international relations and believe that EEAS's most important asset is its staff. Higher motivation and dedication gives the best results.

Work habits and environment are drastically different from those of previous generations and management of Human Resources must keep pace with these changing circumstances. My 5 years of experience with the EEAS has helped me to understand what should be done and how, and I am full of energy and curiosity to pursue excellency and contribute to better working conditions for all staff.

I decided to stand in order to help enhance the quality of our working environment. This means:

- Good working conditions;
- Fair and transparent evaluation and career development for all EEAS staff;
- Transparent, adequate and timely procedures for medical insurance will be my particular priority.
